ACC CHAMPIONS

1 :: The Maryland wrestling program has begun to reach new heights in the Atlantic Coast Conference under head coach Pat Santoro.

Last season, Jason Kiessling and Mike Letts won the ACC Championship at 165 and 174 pounds, respectively, while Hudson Taylor and James Knox both earned All-ACC honors after advancing to their respective finals.

Since Santoro took over in 2003-04, Maryland has had four ACC champions while 10 wrestlers have gained All-ACC status. Meanwhile, the Terps have gone 9-1 in conference duals the last two seasons to win consecutive dual championships.

TOP ATTENDANCE

2 :: While bringing Maryland wrestling back to the national scene, Santoro has also attracted more and more fans to Comcast Pavilion, home of the Terrapins.

Last season, a capacity crowd of over 1,500 filled the stands as the Terps battled national power Nebraska in College Park. The Cornhuskers were ranked No. 18 in the nation at the time.

As a result of Maryland's rise to the top of the ACC, the Terps finished in the top 20 in the nation in home attendance last season.

COACHING STAFF

3 :: The Maryland coaching staff is one of the best in the nation as all three full-time staff members were All-Americans as wrestlers in college.

Head coach Pat Santoro was a national champion at 142 pounds in 1988 and 1989 at Pittsburgh while earning All-America honors in all four of his years there. Santoro did not stop there as he went on to wrestle internationally for the United States National Team in 1995, 1996, 1998 and 1999, serving as an alternate for the 1996 Olympic Team and the 1999 World Team.

Assistant coach Todd Beckerman was a two-time All-American at Nebraska. He was the Nebraska Male Athlete of the Year in 2000-01 and was also named the Husker Power Lifter of the Year. Beckerman also competed internationally in 1999 and 2000 as a member of the Big 12 All-Star Wrestling Team.

Assistant coach Brad Dillon was also a two-time All-American wrestler under Santoro at Lehigh. Dillon finished fourth as a senior and fifth as a junior at 174 pounds in the NCAA Championship. The two-time captain was also an Academic All-American.

TRADITION

4 :: The Terps have been the most dominant team in the ACC since competition began in 1954. Maryland has accumulated 20 conference championships (more than any other school), 181 ACC champions, and 15 All-Americans.

The Maryland wrestling program has produced such alums as (from left to right):

- Gobel Kline - 1969 NCAA Champion and two-time All-American
- Ernie Fischer - All-American and 1956 U.S. Olympian
- Bob Kopnisky - 1965 NCAA Champion and two-time All-American

COMCAST CENTER

HOME OF THE TERRAPINS

Maryland's new student activities building and home of Maryland Athletics was completed in fall 2002. Comcast Center's main arena provides a seating capacity of 17,950 fans for basketball, and serves as a campus site for university special events and select community events.

An additional 1,500-seat gym serves as home to the Terps' wrestling, gymnastics and volleyball teams, and the Sprint Heritage Hall multi-purpose room (capacity 400) is equipped to host banquets, press conferences, large meetings and serve as a pregame restaurant suite overlooking the competition arena.

The Comcast Center also houses the university's athletics administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing an enhanced study atmosphere for the school's 700 student-athletes on 27 teams.

Comcast Center is an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors will learn about the men and women who have made Maryland Athletics great as they stroll through the dramatic Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. And the Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby, allows visitors to outfit their pride. Maryland has once again reclaimed the status of having the best student activities center and athletics home in the country.

FEAR THE TURTLE...
WRESTLING FULLY FUNDED

The Fear the Turtle campaign was launched in the Fall of 2003 with the goal of raising $1.2 million to annually fund scholarships for the eight men's teams at the University of Maryland that historically have not had the maximum number of scholarship allowed by the NCAA.

Maryland Athletics and the wrestling coaching staff would like to extend their sincere appreciation to all letterwinners and friends of the program who have contributed to the Fear the Turtle campaign. Your generosity has provided Maryland Wrestling with 5.9 additional scholarships, bringing our total to 9.9 full scholarships! We are now a fully funded program.

FIFTH SEASON AT MARYLAND • PITTSBURGH, 1992
2003 NATIONAL ASSISTANT COACH OF THE YEAR

Pat Santoro, a two-time NCAA national champion and four-time All-American, returns for his fifth season at the helm of the Maryland program. In just four years, Santoro has brought the Terrapin program back to the forefront of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Under Santoro's tutelage, the Terps have steadily improved year after year. After building a squad that could compete in his first two seasons, Santoro's efforts became noticable in 2006 as Maryland went 4-1 in the ACC regular season and won a share of the conference dual meet championship. In 2007, however, the program reached new heights and returned to prominence as it went undefeated in the ACC and won its first outright dual championship since 1974.

In 2007, Santoro guided the Terps to its best season in school history as they went 17-5, tying the program record for wins in a season. Maryland finished second at the ACC Tournament as well, its best showing since 1990.

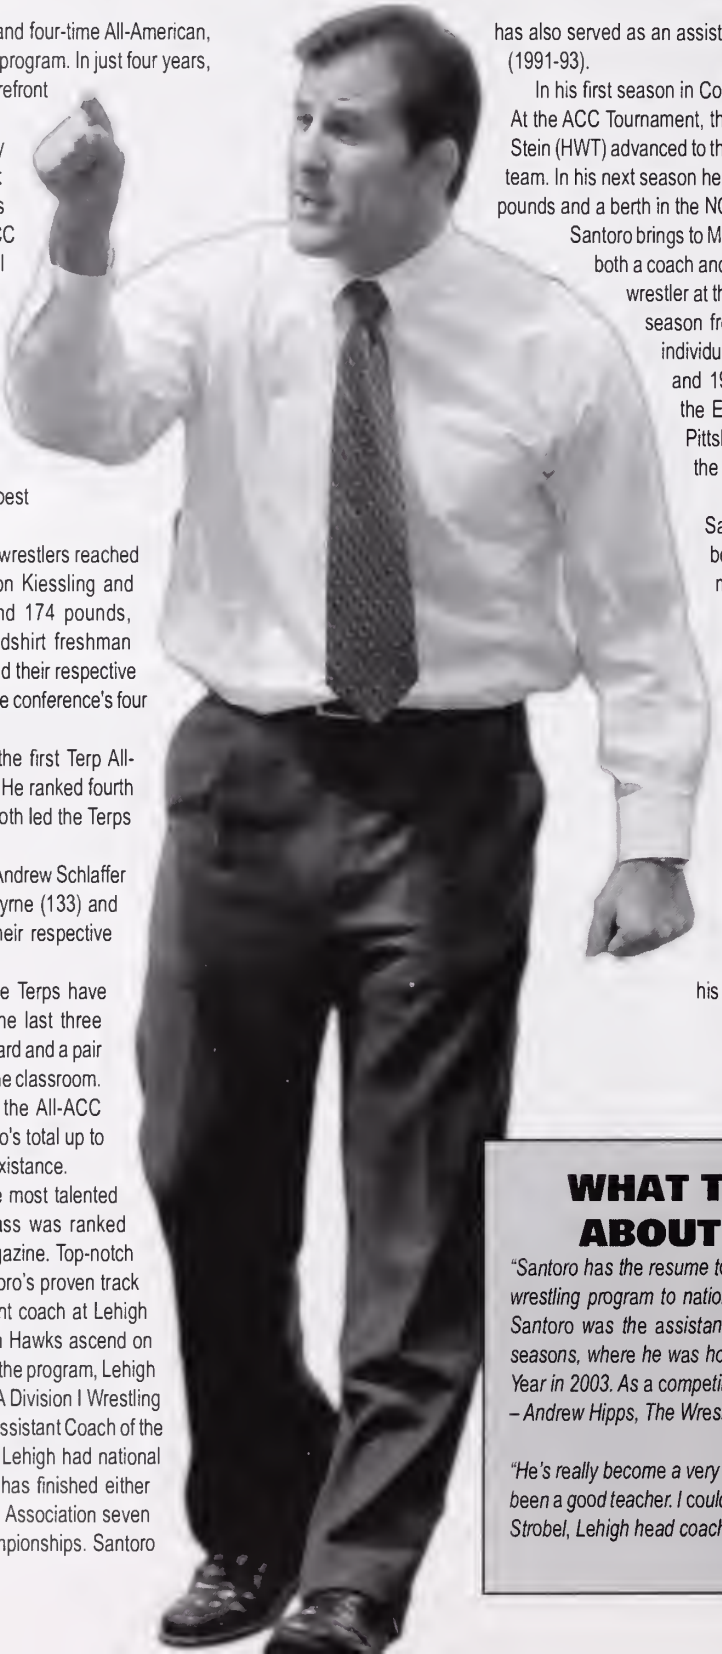
In addition to the team's performance, a number of wrestlers reached new heights under Santoro. Graduated senior Jason Kiessling and freshman Mike Letts won the ACC title at 165 and 174 pounds, respectively, while sophomore James Knox and redshirt freshman Hudston Taylor were All-ACC honorees as they reached their respective finals. Letts, Kiessling, and Taylor, who earned one of the conference's four wild card bids, advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

Taylor, who went 29-9, barely missed becoming the first Terp All-American since 1997 as he lost 4-3 in the round of 12. He ranked fourth in the nation in pins last season. Kiessling and Letts both led the Terps with 30 wins apiece.

In 2005, Maryland finished first in the ACC at 4-1 as Andrew Schlaffer captured the ACC title at 149 pounds and Brendan Byrne (133) and Adam James (157) both advanced to the finals of their respective weight classes.

In addition to their recent success on the mat, the Terps have flourished in other areas under Santoro. In two of the last three seasons, Maryland earned the ACC Sportsmanship Award and a pair of student-athletes were recognized for their efforts in the classroom. Josh Haines and Andrew Schlafferwere placed on the All-ACC Academic Wrestling Team last season bringing Santoro's total up to six in the two years the Academic Team has been in existance.

Santoro has also proven he can bring some of the most talented wrestlers to College Park. This year's incoming class was ranked 21st in the nation by Wrestling International Newsmagazine. Top-notch recruits are attracted to the program because of Santoro's proven track record of success. In his nine seasons as an assistant coach at Lehigh University in Bethlehem, Pa., he helped the Mountain Hawks ascend on the national scene. In 2003, Santoro's last season with the program, Lehigh finished fourth in the team standings at the 2003 NCAA Division I Wrestling Championships and Santoro was named the national Assistant Coach of the Year by the National Wrestling Coaches Association. Lehigh had national top-10 finishes in three of his last four seasons and has finished either first or second in the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association seven times in the last eight years, including four team championships. Santoro has also served as an assistant coach at Duquesne (1993-94) and Penn State (1991-93).



In his first season in College Park, the Terps were 4-9 in dual meet action. At the ACC Tournament, though, Maryland's Jason Kiessling (157) and Barry Stein (HWT) advanced to the finals and were named to the ACC All-Tournament team. In his next season he helped mentor Charlie Pinto to the ACC title at 141 pounds and a berth in the NCAA Tournament.

Santoro brings to Maryland credentials that include national success as both a coach and as a student-athlete. Santoro was an All-American wrestler at the University of Pittsburgh, earning that status each season from 1986 through 1989. He won NCAA Division I individual national championships at 142 pounds in 1988 and 1989, and was a three-time individual champion in the Eastern Wrestling League. He was the recipient of Pittsburgh's Golden Panther Award in 1989, recognizing the outstanding athlete of the year.

Following his success as a collegiate wrestler, Santoro went on to a stellar international career, being ranked among the nation's top wrestlers for more than a decade. He was a member of the U.S. National Team in 1995, 1996, 1998 and 1999, serving as an alternate for the 1996 Olympic Team and the 1999 World Team. He placed fourth at the 2000 U.S. Olympic Trials, third at the 1992 Trials and was runner-up at the U.S. Open Freestyle competition in 1992.

Santoro graduated with a bachelor's degree in psychology from Pittsburgh in 1992. While there he was a two-time team captain and a member of Athletes in Action and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He is a member of the EWL and District XI Wrestling halls of fame.

Santoro resides in Columbia with his wife, Julie, his daughter Leah, and their guard dog Cooper.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT PAT SANTORO

"Santoro has the resume to prove that he is the man to lead Maryland's wrestling program to national prominence. Before coming to Maryland, Santoro was the assistant coach at perennial power Lehigh for nine seasons, where he was honored as the national Assistant Coach of the Year in 2003. As a competitor, his credentials are equally as impressive."
– Andrew Hipps, The Wrestling Mall

"He's really become a very good coach -- in all departments. He's always been a good teacher. I could see Pat being in the top 20 real soon."– Greg Strobel, Lehigh head coach

COACHING STAFF

TODD BECKERMAN

ASSISTANT COACH

Nebraska '01
Third Season at Maryland

Former Nebraska All-American Todd Beckerman is in his third season on the Maryland Terrapin staff. A native of Crofton, Md., Beckerman was added to the staff in September of 2005.

Beckerman spent two seasons as an assistant coach at the Naval Academy before coming to College Park. In 2004, the team posted its best dual record since 1993 and had a school-record eight wrestlers post 25-win seasons.

A four-year letterwinner and two-time All-America at Nebraska, Beckerman came to Navy from Lincoln, Neb., where he spent the 2002-03 season as a volunteer assistant coach for the Huskers. Beckerman primarily coached the lower weight classes and helped coordinate and assist in the Husker recruiting efforts.

Prior to returning to his alma mater, Beckerman worked during the 2001-02 season as an administrative assistant in the Penn State wrestling office, where he worked one-on-one with student-athletes and played a large role in directing summer camps. Beckerman also implemented the Todd Beckerman All-American Wrestling Camp, which was held for six-straight summers at Nebraska beginning in 1997.

At the 2000 and 2001 NCAA Championships, Beckerman wrestled to All-America status as well as Academic All-Big 12 honors in both seasons. He was the 2000-01 Nebraska Male Athlete of the Year, as well as the Husker Power Lifter of the Year. The 2000-01 team captain also competed internationally in 1999 and 2000 as a member of the Big 12 All-Star Wrestling Team.

Beckerman graduated in 2001 with a degree in human resources and family sciences. He received his master's in education from Nebraska with an emphasis in post secondary athletics in 2007.

BRAD DILLON

ASSISTANT COACH

Lehigh '04
Fourth Season at Maryland

Brad Dillon, an All-American on the mat and in the classroom at Lehigh, begins his fourth season as an assistant coach at the University of Maryland. Dillon wrestled and flourished under head coach Pat Santoro's direction while at Lehigh.

In his first season with the Terps, Dillon was involved in helping land a nationally ranked recruiting class and helping Charlie Pinto to the ACC title at 141 pounds.

A four-year starter for the Mountain Hawks, Dillon finished fourth at the NCAA Tournament as a senior and fifth as a junior at 174 pounds to earn All-America honors. In addition, he was a two-time team captain and captured a pair of Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association (EIWA) titles. He finished his career with over 100 victories and set school records for career dual meet victories (67), season dual meet victories (24) and most takedowns in a season (145).

Off the mat, Dillon was named an Academic All-American and was a recipient of the Lehigh University Scholar Athlete Award as a senior.

"I am excited for the opportunity to work with Pat," Dillon commented when he was hired. "He was instrumental in my accomplishments and I am familiar with his coaching system and philosophies. I am very confident in my ability to help the student-athletes at Maryland become better wrestlers and well-balanced individuals."

"Brad brings a lot to our program," Santoro said. "He has always been an excellent technician and a very hard worker. He also relates very well to the guys. He's very versatile because he can work with anyone on the team. He spends a lot of the morning in the wrestling room working with anyone from 125 to 197. He has been a great asset."

JASON NAGLE

VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT

Pennsylvania '00
Fourth Season at Maryland

Jason Nagle enters his fourth year at the University of Maryland as a volunteer assistant coach.

A native Marylander, Nagle attended Centennial High School in Ellicott City where he was a state finalist. In college, Nagle was a four-year starter, wrestling at Penn State University before transferring to the University of Pennsylvania. At Penn, he advanced to the finals of the EIWA tournament two times, winning the tournament once.

After graduating in 2000 with a degree in biology, Nagle worked as an equity and index options trader before returning to the classroom in the fall of 2004. He is currently a fourth year student at the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy.

KEVIN KEARNS

ADMIN. ASSISTANT

Maryland '75
31st Season

Former Terrapin letterwinner Kevin Kearns enters his 31st season on the Maryland staff, his fourth as an administrative assistant after spending 27 years as an assistant coach. In 1970, while a captain of the wrestling team, Kearns was drafted into the United States Army. He served with the 101st Airborne Division in a Recon Team in Vietnam in 1971 and 1972.

Upon his completion of military duty, Kearns returned to the Maryland wrestling program in 1972-73 and assisted Coach McHugh and the team. Wrestling during this time for the Baltimore Central YMCA, Kearns won the national YMCA Greco championship, the prestigious New York Athletic Club Greco championship and two South Atlantic AAU freestyle championships.

After receiving his degree, he moved to Minnesota to train and wrestle for the United States Greco Roman team. Returning to Maryland in 1976, Kearns was named head coach at Dulaney High School in Timonium, Md. In 1977, he was selected to take the head coaching position at Johns Hopkins University, but returned to Maryland in 1980, where he has served as an assistant coach for 27 years before moving to an administrative position in 2004.

2007-08 SEASON OUTLOOK

On the heels of one of the best dual meet seasons in Maryland history, the Terps are looking to build on that success and take it even further. With two NCAA qualifiers from last year returning to the starting line-up, head coach Pat Santoro is looking for great things this season.

"We are expecting continual improvement," Santoro said. "We haven't had an All-American in 11 years and we're looking to have our first All-American and hopefully it will be more than one."

There is potential all over the Maryland line up to achieve that level of success. Sophomore Hudson Taylor was a point away last year as he lost in the round of 12 of the NCAA Tournament while Mike Letts qualified for NCAAs after capturing the 174 pound ACC Championship.

Other wrestlers such as Charlie Pinto, who has NCAA experience, and James Knox who was an All-ACC member last season have a chance to improve their skills on the mat and advance far in the postseason. Brendan Byrne was also an All-ACC honoree in 2006.

As a result, Santoro has set up a dual schedule that will challenge his team to better prepare them for the postseason. The Terps will face seven teams that finished in the top 25 last year while competing in such prestigious tournament as the Southern Scuffle and the Body Bar Systems Invitational.

"We have given the guys a very competitive schedule," Santoro said. "They are going to be better prepared at the end of the year. We're going to face nine or 10 teams ranked in the top 25 in the country and couple of top 10 teams. We're not focused on the dual meet season, though, we're focused on nationals. The dual meet schedule is going to prepare us for the postseason and ultimately that is what we are looking for."

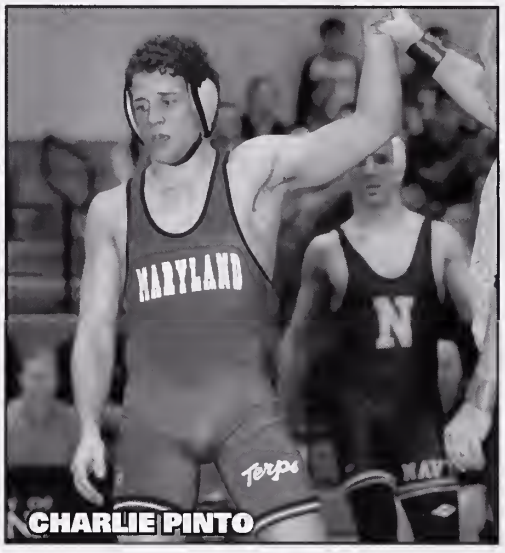
And what Maryland is looking for is an ACC Championship and improvement at the NCAA level. Santoro has built the Terps to do just that.

"We should be solid at every weight class, but we just need to bring it to another level and they know that," Santoro said. "That's what we have been training for."

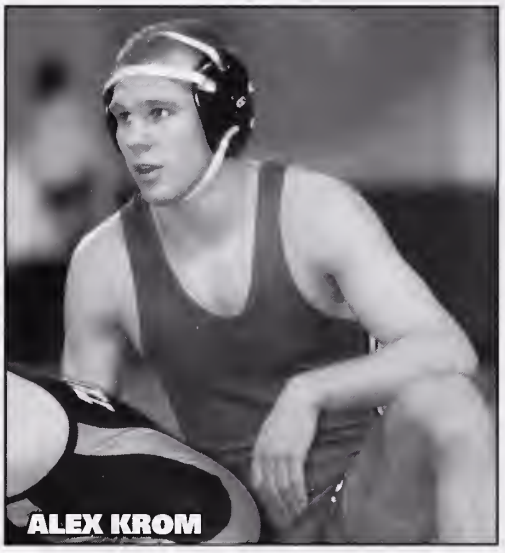
125

This could be a heavily contested weight class for Santoro as junior James Knox is a two-year starter returning for the Terps. Last year, Knox had an impressive season in 2006-07 as he went 15-13 with 11 of those victories coming in dual action. At the ACC Championship, Knox earned a second-place finish and All-ACC honors.

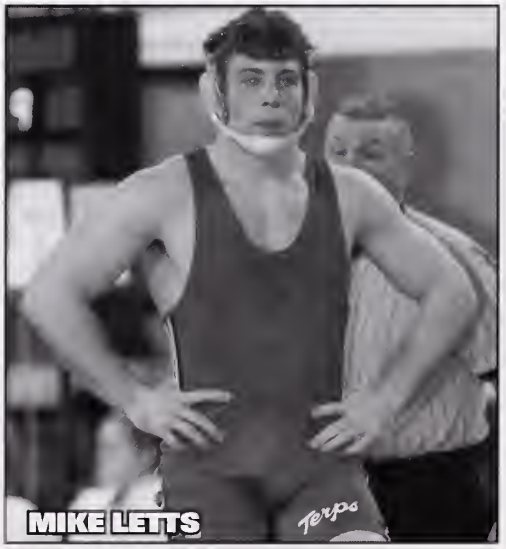
Knox will be challenged by a few wrestlers, though, as Brendan Byrne recently dropped down to that class from 133 where he was an ACC finalist in 2006 and Mookie Golden has been stellar on the practice mat in the off season, according to Santoro.



CHARLIE PINTO



ALEX KROM



MIKE LETTS

Casey Marwine, Jeff Oldham, Lou Ruland, and newcomer Will Sharbaugh will also compete for time at 125.

133

Steven Bell spent last year on the shelf with an injury but will return and is the favorite to start at 133 pounds. As a freshman in 2005-06, Bell went 12-9 in tournament action and took second place in the West Virginia, Wilkes Barre, and Buffalo Open.

Bell was highly touted coming out of high school as he was the 10th-best recruit in the 125 pound weight class and had top 10 finishes twice at the national freestyle championships while at Connellsville High School in Pennsylvania.

Senior Charlie Pinto is expecting to start at 141 pounds after splitting time with Alex Krom in 2006-07. Pinto went 16-4 last year with a solid 9-2 mark in dual competition. Pinto not only brings his skills to the mat, but his experience is also invaluable as he was a 2005 ACC Champion and has competed at NCAAs.

Jon Kohler will be challenging Pinto for the 141 spot after spending last season at the 133 class. He went 10-20 as the Terps' starter at 133.

Alex Krom, who spent most of last year as the Terps' starter at 141, will redshirt this season.

Three freshman come to Maryland to compete at 141 this year including Cory Biscaha, Matt Bogusz, and Dex Lederer. Biscaha was a District 21 and Region 6 Champion and a 2006 New Jersey state placer.

Bogusz was a 2007 District 11 Champion as well as three-time District 11 finalist while winning the 2007 Northeast Regional. Lederer also has an impressive resume coming in, as he was a three-time Pennsylvania Freestyle State Champion, a two-time Greco Roman State Champion, and a 2005 Cadet Freestyle All-American.

149

Talented freshman Eric Medina will push for the starting job at 149 pounds and Steve Fehnel will also challenge him for the spot. Medina was a three-time National Prep Champion, a Cadet Freestyle National Champion, two-time Ironman Champion, and the 2005 Beast of the East champion. He was ranked No. 1 in the country at 145 pounds by WIN Magazine and was ranked 10th-best recruit in the country, regardless of weight class, on Intermat.

Fehnel, a senior, went 8-5 last season in tournament action and finished sixth at the east Stroudsburg Open.

Three other newcomers will push the two front runners as Dan Hawvermale, Kyle John, and Shawn Steets all join the Terp ranks along with veterans Keith Bernard and Ryan Brown.

157

Newcomers Brian Letters and Jake Fedechko will look to earn the starting spot in their first year on campus at 157. Letters finished third at the 2007 Pennsylvania State Championships and was the 2006 Powerade Champion. He was a four-time WPIAL place winner and finished high school career with 157 wins for Fox Chapel.

Fedechko was a 2005 FILA Cadet Freestyle All-American, two-time district champion and a regional champion in New Jersey.

Santoro also points to Clint Stout who is waiting for a shot at 157. He has been injury-laden but is healthy for the first time in a while and will push for the position.

The 157 class also welcomes freshman Matt MacLean and Navy transfer Ricky Tippett to the lineup.

165

The 165 pound weight class is another wide open position for the Terps this year. Mike McGill moved up a weight class after starting at 157 last year where he went 12-17 overall.

Ryan Kennett and Bradley Nielson will also make their cases for the starting spot prior to the season. Kennett was a three-time prep state champion in high school while Nielson had a stellar career at Walkersville before coming to Maryland.

174

Sophomore Mike Letts returns to the spot where he captured the ACC title at 174 pounds last season. As a freshman, Letts led the team with 31 wins and went 17-3 in dual competition.

He was the first true freshman to compete at the NCAA Championships for the Terps since Jason Shea wrestled at 133 pounds in 1990.

Letts went 2-2 at the NCAAs and will look to improve on his performance from last year, possibly gunning to be Maryland's first All-American since 1997.

184

Josh Haines returns to the Maryland starting line up from last year after he missed the first half of 2006-07 with a nagging injury. Haines finished 10-7 with an 8-3 record in dual meets.

Rich DiPietro is the other wrestler listed at 184 pounds who provides depth at this weight class. He saw a lot of mat time last season filling in for the injured Haines.

197

Sophomore Hudson Taylor is another Terp looking for the coveted All-American status this season. He finished one point shy last year as he lost 4-3 in a match that would have guaranteed him a spot among the top eight finishers at 197 pounds.

Taylor ranked fourth in the nation in 2006-07 with 18 pins and went a team-best 18-3 in duals while going 29-9 overall.

HEAVYWEIGHT

Bryan Reiss and Patrick Gilmore, who moved up from 197, will battle for the starting position at heavyweight. Both did not see time on the mat in dual competition last year.

Reiss finished second at the Wilkes Open in his only action of the season in 2006-07 as he went 3-1. Gilmore went 9-8 in tournaments with a pair of falls last year and finished fourth at the West Virginia Open.

Tommy Sitar aslo joins the heavyweight ranks as a freshman and will also look for some time on the mat this season.

SCHEDULE

Santoro has put together one of the toughest schedules in recent memory for the Terps in 2007-08. Maryland will face seven teams that finished last season in the final USA Today/NWCA/Intermat Coaches Poll.

The Terps open up at the always challenging Avalon Duals on November 3 before traveling to Penn State a week later. Maryland will face Edinboro who finished last year with a ranking, as did Penn State.

After the Body Bar Systems Invitational tournament at Cornell on November 17, Maryland will wrestle Michigan, Central Michigan, and Appalachian State. Both the Wolverines and CMU were top 15 teams in 2006-07.

The Terps open their home schedule on December 2 against Lehigh, which finished in the top 25 as well, before hosting Rider and Rutgers on the 8th.

The nation's most prestigious tournament will once again welcome Maryland as the Southern Scuffle will take place on December 29-30.

The Terps will face nationally-ranked Navy on January 10 before opening their ACC schedule on January 13 at North Carolina.

The highlight of the year will come on March 8 when the 2008 ACC Championship makes its way to Comcast Center. It is the first time that the tournament will be held in the facility.

The NCAA Championship begins on March 20 in St. Louis at the Scottrade Center.

2006-07 SEASON RECAP

Prior to the 2006-07 season, head coach Pat Santoro stated that "this is the year we have been pointing to as our young guys in the lineup develop and we start taking a lot of guys out of redshirt." His words rang true throughout the season as the Terrapins' season was the best in regular season history.

Things looked bright for the Terps after the opener as they won two out of three matches in consecutive weekends before heading to the Body Bar Systems Invitational at Cornell. At that tournament, a few Terps excelled as Charlie Pinto and Alex Krom battled to the 141 pound finals, where Pinto beat his teammate, 5-3.

Jason Kiessling and Mike Letts had good outings as well by placing third at 165 and 174 pounds, respectively, while Hudson Taylor finished fourth at 197.

Following their trip to Ithaca, Maryland returned to Comcast Pavilion to host national power Nebraska. Fans came in full force to support Santoro's wrestlers as a capacity crowd watched the Cornhuskers defeat the Terps.

The experience against the Huskers proved to be valuable as Maryland rattled off six straight dual wins following the setback and had an impressive eighth-place performance at the prestigious Southern Scuffle. Krom took second place at the Scuffle with Letts finishing third and Kiessling fourth in their weight classes.

Following the New Year's holiday, Maryland continued its hot streak in duals by winning nine of its final 11 matches. The Terps opened ACC play with a 26-12 victory against North Carolina on Jan. 13 and then easily beat Virginia Tech a week later, 30-9.

Saturday, January 27 would be a day that proved for once and for all that the Maryland program had arrived. The Terps were set to wrestle NC State and Duke in a pair of road matches.

The Wolfpack was up first and they started quickly to build a 12-3 advantage early in the dual and kept the nine-point cushion to the score of 18-9 with three matches to go.

Taylor, ranked No. 19 at the time at 197, brought the Terps within six points with a 5-4 decision against No. 13 Ryan Goodman. Jerry Afari then pulled off a major upset against No. 9 Jainor Palma at heavyweight as he won 11-5 to keep Maryland's momentum.

In the final match at 125 pounds, James Knox capped off the meet as he pinned Taylor Cummings in the first overtime session to give the Terps a 21-18 win.

Maryland's day was not done, though, as they had to hop on the bus to Durham to take ont he Blue Devils in the night cap. Once again, the Terps started out slow and found themselves in a 13-3- hole after five matches.

Throughout the season, Maryland's upper weights dominated its competition and it rang true again against Duke. Maryland's starters from 174 to heavyweight easily handled its opposition with a pair of pins, a technicall fall, and a major decision to get the win for the Terps and improve their ACC record to 4-0.

After another tough win at American, Maryland closed out its conference season with an easy 30-12 win against Virginia in College Park. It marked the first time since 1974 that the Terps finished perfect in the conference and won the regular season dual championship outright.

Maryland capped off its brilliant regular season wnith a win against George Mason to finish the regular season 17-5. The win total matched the best in school history and the .773 winning percentage that the Terps posted was the best in program history.

The Terps rode their wave of success into the ACC Championship with high hopes. It was NC State, however, that gained some momentum in the early going of the day and carried that through for an impressive championship while capturing the team title.

Maryland grabbed a pair of individual titles on the day as Kiessling captured the 165 crown and Letts won at 174 as both would move on to represent the ACC at the NCAA Tournament.

Knox and Taylor earned second-place finishes at 125 and 197 pounds, respectively, to earn All-ACC status while Taylor was awarded one of the conference's four wild card spots to move on the NCAAs.

Taylor made his trip worthwhile as he went 3-2 in Auburn and came up one point short of earning All-America status. He lost 4-3 in the round of 12 and just missed out on becoming the first Terp All-American since 1997.

In addition to its success on the mat, Maryland proved just as strong in the classroom as Josh Haines and Schlaffer were named to the All-ACC Academic Wrestling Team.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

DEEP ROOTS, BROAD IMPACT

Charles Benedict Calvert founded the Maryland Agricultural College in 1856 with the goal of creating a school that would offer outstanding practical knowledge to him and his neighbors and be "an institution superior to any other."

One hundred and fifty years later, the University of Maryland has blossomed from its roots as the state's first agricultural college and one of America's original land grant institutions into a model of the modern research university. It is the state's greatest asset for its economic development and its future, and has made its mark in the nation and the world.

Calvert would be astounded by the depth and breadth of research activities, innovative educational programs, and the single-minded pursuit of excellence that are part of the University of Maryland today. Maryland is ranked 18th among the nation's top public research universities by U.S. News & World Report, with 31 academic programs in the Top 10 and 92 in the Top 25. It is also ranked No. 37th in the world, according to the Institute of Higher Education at at Shanghai's Jiao Tong University.

Maryland is the state's premier center of research and graduate education and the public institution of choice for undergraduate students of exceptional ability and promise. The faculty includes three Nobel laureates, six Pulitzer Prize winners, a three-time Emmy Award winner, 40 members of national academies and scores of Fulbright scholars. The university focuses great attention on the highest academic standards, affordability for all qualified students, and a President's Promise program that guarantees opportunity for extraordinary extracurricular and professional experiences for each student.

It has earned a national reputation for its enriched educational experiences for undergraduates, including such widely imitated living/learning programs as College Park Scholars; Gemstone, a unique program that brings teams of students together from across disciplines to tackle specific technical problems; and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program, sponsored jointly by the A. James Clark School of Engineering and the Robert H. Smith School of Business, and widely recognized as the most successful student entrepreneurship program in the nation.

These programs are guided by outstanding faculty whos accomplishments in research abound. Whether the issue i Mideast peace, cutting-edge research in nanoscience, homelan security or bioscience advances, Maryland faculty are selecte for national leadership and are making news. Many recent majo faculty initiatives receiving significant external support strengthe our homeland security endeavors—centers for research o agrosecurity and emergency management; intermodal freigh transportation security; behavioral and social analyses o terrorism and responses to terrorism; astrophysics and advance world climate and weather prediction; and a national Center fo Advanced Study of Language.

In addition to its academic prowess, Maryland is also hom to the Terrapins, whose athletic achievements are a perennia source of pride for nearly 250,000 alumni and residents o the state. In 2005-2006, the Terrapins brought home nationa championships in four sports — men's soccer, field hockey competitive cheer and women's basketball — more than an university in the nation.

In 2004, Maryland's School of Music hosted the Nationa Symphony Orchestra in its first university residency, and its 200 opera production was declared by the Washington Post musi critic "... as good as any Bohème you are likely to see this sid of the Metropolitan Opera or Covent Garden."

Whether aiming for the skies or pioneering journalism programs in China, the University of Maryland is surging ahead Building on the work of outstanding faculty and students, an with the loyal support of alumni and friends, Maryland is movin aggressively and confidently to a decade that will shine brighte than any other in its history.

DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
NINTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state of the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

Prior to assuming the Presidency at Maryland, Dr. Mote served on the University of California, Berkeley faculty for 31 years. From 1991 to 1998, he was Vice Chancellor at Berkeley, held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems and was President of the UC Berkeley Foundation. He led a comprehensive capital campaign for Berkeley that raised $1.4 B. He earlier served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering and led the department to its number one ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness.

Dr. Mote's research lies in dynamic systems and biomechanics. Internationally recognized for his research on the dynamics of gyroscopic systems and the biomechanics of snow skiing, he has produced more than 300 publications, holds patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden, and has mentored 56 Ph.D. students. He received the B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. President Mote has received numerous awards and honors, including the Humboldt Prize awarded by the Federal Republic of Germany. He is a recipient of the Berkeley Citation, an award from the University of California-Berkeley similar to the honorary doctorate, and was named Distinguished Engineering Alumnus. He has received two honorary doctorates. He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and serves on its Council, and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Honorary Membership in the ASME International, its most distinguished recognition, and is a Fellow of the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In Spring 2005, he was named recipient of the 2005 J. P. Den Hartog award by the ASME International Technical Committee on Vibration and Sound to honor his lifelong contribution to the teaching and/or practice of vibration engineering. In Fall 2005, he received the 2005 Founders Award from the National Academy of Engineering in recognition of his comprehensive body of work on the dynamics of moving flexible structures and for leadership in academia.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

Yow is in the 14th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. In Yow's 13-plus years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 15 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She has been honored by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television, including multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities. In January 2008, she will become a member of the Board of Directors of the National Football Foundation.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Terp Buck Williams as honorees.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 13 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $56 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.

  Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the remarkable upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable six national championships during the past two seasons.
- In 2006, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics.
- Fundraising for Maryland athletics set a historic mark of $31 million in 2006-07.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the most well-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments and in 12 of the last 14 tournaments.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. In the 2006-07 season, Maryland returned to the bowl scene, where the Terps beat Purdue, 24-7, in the Champs Sports Bowl. Graduation rates in football are exemplary and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only nine universities to win the National Championship in football and men's basketball and is one of only three universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford and UCLA are the only other NCAA Division I institutions to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,950 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center and led the ACC in season attendance.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the fifth-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in three of the past five seasons.
- Field hockey earned National Championships in 2005-06 and in 2006-07, and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- In women's lacrosse, hired Kathy Nelson Reese, who was name the 2007 ACC Coach of the Year in her first season as coach of th Terps.
- Men's soccer has appeared in four Final Fours in the past five yea and won the NCAA National Championship.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team hous stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was th first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the $130 million Comcast Cente housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fan for basketball and other events – part of a remarkable $250 millio upgrade and expansion of athletics facilities during Dr. Yow' leadership of Maryland Athletics.
- In 2006-07, 24 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academi achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue t gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the pas 13 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... ou vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently. we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive managemen style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her t "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and wor smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that w place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hire both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) an the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Loui University). In 2002, she also brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year i women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

Dr. Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organize and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics tha are necessary to be an excellent administrator and leader.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at th University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader i intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of thei courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with thei donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our brigh future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Don Pearman works with the Maryland wrestling team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and a graduate assistant. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house recently. It features offices for two counselors, a program coordinator and three learning specialists; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

BALTIMORE

So much, so close... It's all here beyond the University of Maryland campus. City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes, jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations, shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay.
